I am Dr. K. Venkata Reddy, a distinguished academic and researcher specializing in Rural Development. My educational path began with a Master's degree in Rural Development from Sri Krishnadevaraya University. Motivated by a strong interest in research, I pursued an M.Phil from S.K. University in the same field, where I explored both the theoretical and practical dimensions of my area of expertise. My quest for knowledge and commitment to advancing the field prompted me to earn a Ph.D. from Sri Krishnadevaraya University, during which I conducted comprehensive research and made notable contributions to Rural Development.

Upon completing my education, I embarked on my professional career as a Lecturer cum Assistant Director at the Centre for the Study of Social Exclusion and Inclusive Policy (CSSEIP) at Sri Krishnadevaraya University, Ananthapuramu. Throughout my three-year tenure, I acquired valuable experience and refined my research skills, actively participating in various projects and initiatives.

Currently, I serve as an Assistant Professor and Assistant Director at the Centre for the Study of Social Inclusion (CSSI) at Sri Krishnadevaraya University, Ananthapuramu. Simultaneously, I am also engaged in teaching within the Department of Rural Development at the same university. Here, I continue to make contributions to the field through my teaching, research, and mentorship of students. Under my supervision, Two M.Phil and Ph.D. candidates have successfully completed their degrees. With over 15 years of experience in teaching and research, I have been continuously engaged in research, Ph.D. supervision, and interdisciplinary studies focusing on marginalized communities, contributing to academic publications, field-based research, and policy-oriented studies.

I took part in several Refresher Courses and Orientation Programs, attended seminars, and delivered paper presentations. Additionally, I co-edited Three books and had twenty research papers and articles published in respected national and international journals. These publications demonstrate my profound grasp of the subject and my dedication to furthering the field through research and academic contributions.
